Acushnet Kids DARE to say "No" to Alcohol and Drugs

New Acushnet DARE (Drug and Alcohol Resistance Education) Officer Gary Rousseau and the fifth graders at the St. Francis Xavier School, started their afternoon together tossing around a football during recess. Shouting, laughing and running, the fifth graders seemd to give him a workout of their own. Shortly after huddling, Officer Rousseau threw the football to a young girl who caught it for a touchdown. She smiled proudly, holding the ball in the air for her peers to see. "See, who said girls can't play?" he asked. Part of his job as a DARE officer is to talk with the children and to understand them. Playing with them at recess is an opportunity to become friends with them and gain their trust.

After recess, he and Detective Charlie Pelletier who is "handing over the baton" after being the DARE officer for eight years, go inside the teachers' lounge for a drink of water (and to catch their breath) before they meet in the classroom. Once inside the classroom, the children look up at them excitedly. "How is everybody today?" Officer Rousseau asks them enthusiastically. Most of them reply with a "good."

"Good?What about fantastic?" he asks them. They giggle and then give him the answer he wants. Officer Rousseau walks over to a counter and reaches into the "DARE box," which contains anonymous questions from the students. "I like the questions," he said. The purpose of the box is to give the children a chance to ask questions they might be too shy to ask in front of others. One students wrote down, "What do you do if you moved from another state but one friend is turning their back on you?" Officer Rousseau answered the questions honestly and tactfully. "Maybe this person isn't really a good friend, if they're turning their back on you. You can confront them and ask them if there is something wrong. And, you can make lots of other friends," he said. His optimism seemed contagious in the classroom.

Having a DARE officer is also one way the children can view a police officer in a positive light. For many children, this is their first contact with a policeman. It's an opportunity to destroy stereotypes. For example, the next question somebody wrote down was "where do the Acushnet Police Officers get their doughnuts from?" Their teacher, Carol Astley said sometimes the children give their own lessons. He told them they get food from the Donut Mill, but corrected them on one thing. He explained that most Acushnet Police Officers "eat muffins rather than doughnuts." "We have class," he said jokingly. He explained they usually had to get something small and fast because they never know when they'll get called next. He answered another question about how to get a relative to stop smoking. "That's a good question. The first thing is they have to want to stop. As a relative, I might want to say 'I love you' and I want you to be around here for a long time."

Another student wanted to know "if it's dangerous to be a police officer."

"It can be, when there's trouble and everyone's running out, we're running in. It can be dangerous but we're trained to protect ourselves," he said. Another student wanted to know if there is a lot of crime in Acushnet. "There is crime here, but there is everywhere else. New Bedford has a lot more crime than us. It depends on who you compare it to," he said. Another student was curious about Officer Rousseau's background. They wrote, "When you were a kid, what did you want to be?" He said he went to St. Mary's on Tarkiln Hill Road until the 4th grade when his family moved to Acushnet. Back then he said he wanted to be a priest. Later, he said he wanted to be a draftsman and attended Old Colony and then the Navy. "My interests kept changing," he said. Then he became interested in law enforcement. "Keep up the good questions," he said, encouraging them. After the question and answer period, he talked to the class about the word "consequences." He held up the definition on a poster in front of the class, which read, "The result of something you do or choose not to do." "If you don't do your chores, what are the consequences?" he asked. Students said things like, "no T.V. for a week, get grounded, no allowance." Then he asked what the consequences were of studying hard. "Get a good grade, make your parents proud," were a few answers they gave.Then he asked the consequences of cheating on a test. "Get in trouble, feel guilty and get a 0," were all popular answers.

"Say you are at a party, someone comes up to you and says I dare you to drink beer, what are the consequences?" he asked them. They came up with answers like "get drunk, get grounded, get in an accident." He reminded them they could also get arrested for drinking under the age of 21. He split the class into three groups to come up with three consequences of using alcohol, marijuana or tobacco. The students also had to come up with three consequences of not using as well. One group said the consequences of using tobacco were, "lung cancer, death or get in trouble with the law if underage. " Not using it would lead to "a longer life, better breath, and whiter teeth," they said. Another group said the consequences of using alcohol might be "getting drunk, changing personalities, and getting into an accident. " The benefits of not using alcohol were, "better memory, better coordination, and better learning ability." The last group said the consequences of using marijuana were forgetting things, slowed down reflexes and acting spaced out." Not using it, they said would keep people "smarter, won't die young, and won't get arrested." To make sure they understood their answers, Officer Rousseau has the students give a thumbs up or a thumbs down to judge if the consequence was negative or positive. One student had a question about changing personalities. He couldn't understand if that was a "bad" thing. Officer Rousseau gave him a scenario to set him straight. He said changing personalities was like acting like someone you're not. He said if you have to drink to "act like a Mr. Funny Pants," that wasn't being yourself. Next week, he said they would learn about "pressure."

During the class, veteran DARE Officer Charlie Pelletier lent a helping hand. He explained he was assisting in the DARE program. After all, he does have eight years of experience under his belt. Officer Rousseau is taking over because Detective Pelletier is considering retiring in a couple of years. Detective Pelletier is one of the original officers in the state who graduated from the very first DARE class for Massachusetts. "We are hoping to train for the 6th graders next year," he said. The new DARE officer must teach the core curriculum, the fifth grade for one year before even training to teach the 6th grade. The officers also go to the Acushnet Elementary School. After teaching the fifth graders a new clapp, (last week was the alligator clap, this week was the Hoochie clap) the officers were on their way. Walking down the hallways, children's faces light up to get a chance to see the two Acushnet Police Officers.

Mattapoisett Selectmen's Meeting

October 30, 1995
by Amelia Thrall

A regular meeting of the Mattapoisett Board of Selectmen was called to order on Monday, October 30, 1995 at 7:00 pm by Chairman Paul E. Lambalot. Also present was Selectman John N. DeCosta, Selectman Daniel O. Mahoney, and Executive Secretary Carol Adams.

The board began the meeting with the approval of last week's minutes. They also signed the weekly treasury warrant, the licenses, permits, and appointments.

Incoming correspondence for the week included a memo from Lois K. Ennis, the town clerk. Ms. Ennis wrote that Brookline wants to purchase Mattapoisett's old ballot box. "This is the box that was used by the town immediately prior to our changing to the Optech voting system. Presently the box is in storage and there is no plan to use it again. Brookline is willing to pay $35 for the ballot box and will use it as a spare in their community." The Selectmen agreed to sell it.

Brad Hathaway sent a letter about the "proposed casino gambling legislation." He was concerned with the sum that the Wampanoags plan to pay towns in Plymouth County. The original plans focused on payments to Bristol County, but legislation has been introduced since then to give more benefits to Plymouth County. The board believed that this legislation has not been finalized, so there are no definite figures yet.

William A. Krol, chief engineer of the Department of Environmental Protection, sent the board a copy of a notice of noncompliance he sent to Mr. Robert Rinquette of Leisure Shores Marina on Brandt Island Cove. The marina placed "pile held floats and associated structures for a 75 slip marina...without a Chapter 91 Waterways License."

The Selectmen next discussed the proposed North Street project. Selectman Mahoney made a motion: "To instruct the consulting engineers on the proposed North Street project (1) to proceed with preparation of design drawings having a paved roadway containing two 12 foot-wide travel lanes, one 4 foot-wide sidewalk on the west side and vertical granite curbing on the west and east sides of the roadway, and (2) to proceed with preliminary design drawings for drainage." The road will be a total of 28 feet 6 inches. The road has been planned to avoid conflict with major stone walls and trees. Some questions as to the size of the lanes came up, but the board felt that "the 12 foot-wide lanes are appropriate and necessary," most significantly for safety reasons. The lanes include a fog line one foot from the edge of the road. The Selectmen passed the proposal unanimously.

The board is seeking applications for Deputy Herring Inspector. The applications should be addressed, in writing, to the Selectmen's office. The deadline for submittal is November 30, 1995.

Executive Secretary Adams reported that Brandt Island Cove will open November 1, 1995 to shellfishing.

The Selectmen discussed possible future improvements for the town, including repairing the town boat ramp. At 7:30, with no other matters to come before the board, the meeting was adjourned.

Marion Selectmen's Meeting

October 31, 1995

A regular meeting of the Marion Board of Selectmen was called to order at 7:00 pm on Tuesday, October 31st, 1995 by Chairman Albert E. Winters. Also present were Selectman Jonathan "Jody" Dickerson, Selectman Loretta B. Schaefer, Secretary Helene Craver and Executive Secretary Ray Pickles.

After approving the minutes of the October 24th meeting, they reviewed correspondence which included:

•A letter from the Massachusetts Department of Revenue, Division of local services concerning unencumbered excess and deficiency funds and surplus revenue for Old Rochester Regional. They explained anything in excess of five percent of the operating budget and the budgeted capital costs for the succeeding Fiscal Year should be applied to reduce the amount of the assessment.

•A letter from Harbormaster George A. Jennings reviewing the 1995 boating season. He stated that there has only been one boating accident in our area in 1995. Only minor injuries resulted. He also noted there has been 525 pump-outs this year to date. This is a 40 percent increase over last year. He also informed Selectmen a "mock oil spill drill" will be held on either Saturday, November 4th or Sunday November 5th somewhere in Buzzards Bay. The purpose of this drill is to test the mutual aid program for Oil Spill Control. Lastly, he noted that swim floats have been hauled and stored. Channel markers, swim area markers, and anchorage buoys have been hauled and stored and winter spars have been installed on all Town moorings.

•A letter from Charles Bradley, Shellfish Officer reviewing the shellfish season. He noted the estimated value of shellfish harvested from our waters for the first 10 months of 1995 from both recreational and commercial fishing is estimated at $264,780. "The growth of Marion's population and the depletion of finfish stock along our coasts has increased the value of shellfish not only as a food source, but also as a recreational pastime," he wrote in a letter to Selectmen. He also discussed the value of Marion's resources. "We do have a valuable shoreline, we should made every effort to protect that resource," he said. Selectmen agreed that preserving the resources is extremely important. "The Board shares the concern of preserving our resources for the future, as well as access to the shoreline," said Chairman Winters.

•A letter from Jim Feeney, Chairman of the Waterways Subcommittee of the Marion Marine Resources Committee. Currently they are studying the concept of organizing moorings in the inner harbor with an accurately surveyed grid plan. The purpose is to design a safer, mooring field consistent with the best ground tackle technology and provide necessary swing room, channels, fairways, and open areas consistent with the varied uses of the harbor. Mr. Feeney said they plan on holding a public hearing to get input from individuals, especially those who have a keen interest in this matter. "The more we study it, the more issues come up, we really want to be careful about this, and take our time with it," he said. Selectman Schaefer thanked the Harbormaster, Shellfish Officer and the Resources Commission for their efforts.

•A letter from the Department of Environmental Protection advising that the rate structure for the Massachusetts Federal Safe Drinking Water Act Assessment for State FY 1997 (July 1, 1996-June 30, 1997). They noted, "The rate is $8 per estimated million gallons."

•A letter from Patricia Farrell, government and

According to Ms. Farrell, "The Indian Cove development line extension is complete and customers are installed and on line. We are happy to report that there was no assessment to the residents because we were able to set nine private poles which supported aerial construction and eliminated over 2,000 feet of costly underground trenching."

At 7:30 pm, Selectmen met with the owners of the Nouveau L' Auberge de Marion for a hearing to transfer a license for alcoholic beverages. The owners said the restaurant is coming along fine and they hope to open soon. They said it was in "perfect shape." They also noted the prices would less expensive than the original L'Auberge, but they would be serving classic French food. Selectmen voted unanimously to grant the license. In other business, Selectmen met with T.J. Walker from the Planning Board to discuss problems that have occurred due to space problems in the Town Hall. Mr. Walker noted a complaint was received about the Planning Board because they are unable to protect and keep documents private while sharing their office with the BBAC (Buzzards Bay Action Committee). The board has discussed this issue in executive session along with Mr. Walker. They discussed moving the office of the BBAC. Mr. Ted Pratt III questioned the process of examining the space needs at the Town Hall in private. He said he felt it should have been discussed at an open meeting. Chairman Winters noted, "Maybe we could have done things a little differently."

Mr. Pickles also noted that the two entities were only sharing the office on a "trail basis." Selectmen will discuss space needs with other boards and departments in the town hall and report back their findings at weekly meeting. Selectmen Dickerson said town boards and committees should be a priority when eliminating some of them from meeting in the Town House. For now, Selectmen agreed to "suspend" their decision on moving the office of the BBAC elsewhere. There being no further business before the Board, the meeting was adjourned at 8:30 pm.

Rochester Selectmen's Meeting

October 30th, 1995

A regular meeting of the Rochester Board of Selectmen was called to order on Monday, October 30th at 7:00 pm by Chairman Michael Murphy (disguised as a judge in a black wig and robe) called the meeting to order. Also present were Selectman Lorraine Roy Hawkes, Selectman David L. Hughes, and Administrative Secretary Shirley A. Ferreira.

After approving the minutes from the October 23rd meeting, his "Honor" Murphy reviewed the bids for the Emergency Power System Project at the Rochester Memorial School. A motion was made to give the bids to Paul Ciaburri, the Civil Defense Director. The purpose of the project is to change the wiring in the Rochester Memorial School to accept the new generator.

In other business Selectmen discussed the Perry Property on Cushman Road. Selectman Hawkes noted after doing some investigation, she has decided to go along with Selectman Hughes' decision last week not to release the balance left from an escrow account until the property is cleaned up. Selectman Hughes seconded her motion. Next, Selectman discussed whether or not to keep the town hall open the day after Thanksgiving. Selectman Hawkes suggested keeping a "skeleton" crew at the town hall, or even splitting shifts. "Other towns give up Veterans Day to have Thanksgiving off. Don't squawk about money, you're giving them an extra holiday," she said. Selectmen Hughes and Murphy said they would do the same thing as last year and keep the town hall closed so people can have more time to spend with their families. Selectman Hawkes said she was in opposition to having the town hall closed, because it would cost the town extra. Selectmen also discussed their meeting schedule during the holiday season. Selectmen Hughes and Chairman Murphy said they would not hold Selectmen's meetings on December 25th or December 26th or January 2nd unless an emergency comes up. Selectman Hawkes wouldn't second the motion. Selectmen also agreed that Earth Removal inspections would be held on Saturday, December 2nd at 8:00 am. Selectman Hughes also noted a new round of bidding is going out for the proposed transfer station.

Ms. Georgia Chamberlain said it was an excellent learning experience. Selectman Hawkes read a letter received from the Second District Attorney, Richard Savignano who complimented the Rochester Police Department for their efforts during the McCra case. "As the Assistant District Attorney who prosecuted the recently concluded case of Commonwealth V. Gerard A. McCra III, I am writing to express my deepest gratitude for the fine work of Police Chief Walter Denham. From the beginning and throughout, Chief Denham's efforts in this matter were exceptionally effective and thoroughly professional. It has been a privilege to work closely with Chief Denham, and I believe that the jury's verdict is, in large part, a reflection of his extraordinary service as a member of the prosecution team. In my estimation, the residents of Rochester should be proud of the outstanding performance of Chief Denham and his department. In particular, I would also like to express my thanks for the excellent work of Officer Protami. His professionalism and judgement at the outset of this investigation were invaluable. In closing, I want to convey my sincerest gratitude for the remarkable assistance this office received from your Police Department and from the Chief." Selectmen said they would put the letter in the Chief's and Officer Protami's files.

Selectmen then met as a personal board to give raises to town employees per the Special Town Meeting vote. Two assistants to the Town Clerk will get a 70 cents raise. Selectman Hughes noted the Board will meet at 6:30 pm next Monday to discuss budgets.

Selectmen then met in executive session to discuss Police contract negotiations at 8:00 pm.

•In the beginning of October the Selectmen approved the decision that "No Town Hall hourly paid employees will be allowed to leave the Town Hall premises during the morning and afternoon breaks."

Emergency Medical services site. There are two proposed locations, one next to the Fire Station and the other in the parking lot behind the Parting Ways Building. The Board heard from the following groups:

•The Beautification Committee, who was unhappy with the proposed location due to the hard work of many individuals to make the grounds behind the Parting Ways Building "something the Town could be proud of."

•The Fire Chief, who grees that they do need a new building, said he is concerned about the Society of Friends' putting a stop to the construction. The Society of Friends donated the land that the Fire Station is presently on solely for that purpose.

Due to the laws governing a new site the Building and Site Committee felt that these were the best areas to look into over others suggested because of public sewage.

•Even though there was concern by residents about the location they all agreed that there was need for a new building.

After hearing everyone who had a question or comment the Board took a vote. It was approved that the new site would be next to the

BUY OR SELL FIRST

Here is one of the oldest questions in the real estate business: Should I sell my house first and then scramble to buy a new one or should I find the new one first and then sell?"

Actually, both steps could be taking place simultaneously, but you'll need more information first and a helping hand to coordinate the steps so they'll fall into place painlessly. Your first step should be a visit to an experienced residential agency like ours. We will prepare a marketing plan for your present home. This will give you a firm basis for planning your new purchase. You'll have an idea of the cash you will have available to use for the downpayment on the next house. Also–you'll have a timeframe for the sale of your present home from listing to passing. This will help in planning the time you'll need to wrap up the purchase of the new home.

In selling one home to buy another, you are not alone. Over 70% of all residential transactions are hinged on one sale taking place before another is consummated. Our agency will help make this transition more profitable and less stressful.

Call BRUCE today with any of your Real Estate questions or needs, we're here to help!!

Letters to the Editor

To The Editor:

Birthdays and Christmas are coming faster and faster! As co-chairs of Flying High, the annual Sippican School Book Fair, we are urging tri-town residents, their friends and families, to patronize Flying High new style, which takes place on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, November 7th, 8th and 9th at the Bookstall, Front Street in Marion. Mention either Sippican School or VASE (Volunteers at Sippican Elementary) and twenty percent of all book sales from the children's section, both paperback and hardback, will go to VASE and the Sippican School Library. Treat yourself, the kids and the school. Three good deeds at once.

When the need surfaced to move Flying High from the Schoòl because the increased costs of books meant some children could not participate, Sally Hunsdorfer, Bookstall owner, stepped into the breach and offered her children's division for the same number of days as the fair had been held at school. The Bookstall, for many years, has been responsible for Flying High's inventory and will continue to offer a selection of the highest quality. Bring the kids to buy old favorites and challenging new authors and Christmas presents for their friends and older and younger siblings.

To help inexperienced parents, grandparents unacquainted with the new richness in children's books, also bashful uncles and their ilk, age specific booklists will be available. Plenty of browsing time will be another luxury as will evening hours on Wednesday from 7:00 pm to 9:00 pm. See you at the fair.

park and a list of all the species that have been planted over the years. As always, the Marion DPW has been very helpful in supplying mulch and loam for the gardens. Peter Tufts has completed the irrigation system and contributed to the park by donating his labor. BUT...our work is not done. Next Spring, thanks to an anonymous donor, the park will be alive with daffodils, iris, tulips and crocus. We need your help to plant this spectacular array of bulbs. Please come and join us on Sunday, November 5th at 1:30 pm. Bring your own shovel-we will supply bulbs and fertilizer, cider and cookies. The list of Park Stewards continues to grow and for this we are very grateful. On behalf of the Sippican Land Trust, we would like to thank all who volunteer to keep this beautiful little park in such good order. Hope to see you all on Sunday: Christina Bascom, Jane Barker, Laurie Barrett, Margie Baldwin, Trudy Kingery, Eunice and Richard Manduca, Dana Anderson, Margot Arms, Dell Carison, Bonnie Sorterup, Alice Piehler, Joanna Bennett, Marilyn Kallaugher, Bruce and Joyce West, Dagmar Unhoch, Jay Crowley, and the St. Gabriel's Fellowship.

Food Drive

Continental Cablevision began its 10th Annual Food Drive this month. All of the proceeds of the Marion Collection effort will go to the Community Resources Network. Last year the CRN packaged food baskets to provide Thanksgiving dinner for over 200 area needy families. As part of the Season of Giving Food Drive, Continental is sponsoring an essay contest for the 4th, 5th, 6th grades in our service area. We are asking students to write an essay in 100 words or less about the "Season of Giving,"-What they can give of themselves to help others--their parents, family, neighbors...church, etc..or what does giving mean to them?

Finalists will be invited to read their essays on Continental Cablevision Community Channel 8 and will be presented with a season of giving certificate. The first place winner will receive a $50 U.S. Savings Bond. In celebration of our 10th Annual Food Drive, Continental employees are donating a basket of handmade gifts which will be given away to one of our food contributors. The name will be drawn the first week in December and announced on community channel 8. Drop by our office at 149 Wareham Road and make your donation of can goods and nonperishable food items and sign up for our drawing. If there is a Continental Cablevision service truck in your neighborhood the technician will be happy to transport your food donations to our office.

Thanksgiving at Stang

Yes folks, Thanksgiving is a few weeks away, but at Bishop Stang the preparations are already underway!The Bishop Stang Student Council is once again gearing up for their favorite community project-working with Sr. Rose Gallogly of Market Ministries services. The meal will include everything from turkey to pumpkin pie. Students and faculty at Stang are all involved in this major undertaking. The students sell tickets to fellow students for a "non-uniform day" and collect nonperishable foods in their homerooms as well. The money from the "nonuniform sale" is used to purchase the turkeys and extras. The faculty cook the turkeys at home and bring them to Stang the Wednesday morning before Thanksgiving. The students then debone and carve the turkeys, peel and cook mounds of potatoes, stuffing and vegetables. The meal is delivered to Market Ministries by students in a big yellow school bus, compliments of Laidlaw and Company. This annual tradition of sharing affords the Bishop Stang community an opportunity to say thank you in a special way for its many blessings. If you would like to help in this endeavor, contributions are welcome and will be used to purchase the turkeys and other perishable "fixins" of a traditional Thanksgiving meal. Contributions may be sent to the Student Council at Bishop Stang c/o of the Development Office, 500 Slocum Road, North Dartmouth, MA 02747.

Coastline Elderly Services

The city of New Bedford, Office of Community Development, recently awarded a grant in the amount of $8,000 to Coastline Elderly Services, Inc. for the provision of Ombudsman Services on behalf of non-English speaking elderly residents of New Bedford. The primary purpose of this initiative, funded through a community development block grant, entitlement awarded to the city of New Bedford by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, is to improve the accessibility of particular public service programs on behalf of low and moderate income individuals and families, the homeless, the elderly, and the handicapped.

The Ombudsman Services will target non-English speaking residents in income-eligible neighborhoods, which assist primarily Portuguese and Spanish speaking elderly residents in all aspects of integrating into their community, accessing public services and participating in community development activities. According to Coastline's Executive Director, Charles Sisson, this funding will provide a provision of services for many of our elderly residents by strengthening existing relationships between that population and the community. "Our elderly non-English speaking population has consistently struggled to locate services and obtain information, in part because information about services is inadequately Dick Council, but nationally as well. In fact, our Tigers, Cubs, Scouts, Explorers and adult Scouters were able to collect more than 20 tons of food for our area agencies. However, the reality is that there are still people in our communities that are in need of food. In fact, these people may be your neighbors. Our effort in recent years has succeeded to some degree to assist in the battle of hunger, yet the war continues. Once again, the Moby Dick Council will participate in the National Good Turn now known as Scouting For Food. On two consecutive weekends in November, Packs, Troops, and Posts within our Council will participate by collecting nonperishable food items and canned goods throughout their varied communities. The dates are Saturday, November 11th (bag distribution) and Saturday, November 18th (bag collection). As in the past, Scouts will distribute bags door to door in an assigned area of their community, then return the following weekend to collect the bags of food and transport them to designated collection sites. Our goal this year is to collect 25 tons of food, but we'll need assistance and participation of everyone!

We have and will continue to "make a difference" in the quality of life for our neighbors, and continue to demonstrate the ideals and values of Scouting through your participation in "Scouting For Food."

Friends of The Elderly

Share Registration

Registration Day for the November Share Package in Mattapoisett is November 3rd at the Congregational Church between 11:00 am and 1:00 pm. This is so that you may have your food package for Thanksgiving. This would be an advantageous time to try getting a Share package. As stated before, there are no restrictions or guidelines for receiving this food other than a payment of $14.40 (food stamps are accepted) and two hours of community work, for which you receive approximately $35 worth of groceries. This month you will receive all the fixings for your Thanksgiving dinner plus a variety of meats (no turkey). Community work can consist of anything done for an individual or organization for which you receive no money. Babysitting, grocery shopping, organization meetings, all of these are acceptable. If you do more than two hours in one month and nothing in another month the excess hours can be banked for another time. Call Jean for an explanation at 758-6470. The goal of the Friends of the Elderly is to see that everyone can take advantage of this program.

THANKSGIVING FOOD DRIVE

The Echelon will present you with a $1.00 coupon off your next salon service. We are accepting non-perishable food donations. All donations will be given to the Battered Women's Shelter in New Bedford.

Mattapoisett COA

The Council on Aging would like to know how many seniors who don't drive would avail themselves of transportation to the Village on Sunday mornings arriving around 9:30 am and returning home around 11:00 am. We would be willing to make stops at the two pharmacies, St. Anthony's, the Congregational Church and Friends Meeting House, making the same route an hour or so later to pick people up for the return trip. If you are interested in using this service, please call Cynthia Paige at the COA office, 758-4110.

Mall Trips

The next Mall trip will be to the Hyannis Mall and the Christmas Tree Shop in Hyannis on Thursday, November 16th. The trip is already filled, so if you signed up and can't go please notify the office so someone else can go as there is a waiting list. The COA office will be closed on Friday, November 10th. If you need a ride through FISH please let the office know at least three days ahead of time. The drivers are very busy people and often are unavailable when you call at the last minute. We are very fortunate to have such a dedicated group of volunteers who are willing to help the Seniors with their transportation needs. The van will be going to Shaw's as usual on Friday, November 10th and Friday, November 24th.

Flying High Book Fair

The time for Flying High, Sippican School's Book Fair, is drawing closer. It will happen at a new place, the Bookstall, with new hours but the days will be the same. It will be held on November 7th and 9th from 10:00 am to 5:00 pm and on November 8th from 7:00 pm to 9:00 pm. Twenty percent of the price of all books purchased may be designated for VASE (Volunteers at Sippican Elementary). Be sure to mention VASE at the time of the sale. The money that goes to VASE will be used to benefit Sippican School's Etta Hix Allen Library/Resource Center. The Bookstall is busy adding to its inventory, particularly of children's books, in order to meet the expected increased demand. For many years the Bookstall has done the ordering and has been the intermediary with the book warehouse as well as providing quality books from its own shelves for the Flying High Fair in the Sippican School Auditorium, so it has all the expertise to provide wonderful books and expert advice. One of the reasons for this change of venue is that the price of books, even paperbacks, has escalated to the extent that not all members of the Sippican School Family feel they can participate. VASE hopes that everyone will support this new approach and do as much birthday, Christmas and personal shopping as possible at the Bookstall on the Flying High Book Fair dates. Spread the word.

Sippican Historical Society

The Sippican Historical Society will present Storyteller Davis Bates in a program of stories and songs to celebrate the season. Entitled Down Home

New England: Stories and Songs for Everyone, the program will involve the audience, through song and story, in a variety of cultural traditions. It will include Glooskabi stories from the Native American cultures of the Northeast, stories from the Underground railroad, New England Oral History narratives, and family stories from Davis' own family. There will also be plenty of sing-alongs. Pete Seeger has called Davis, "Thoughtful, creative, human, and a fantastic storyteller." Davis' traditional and Participatory style of telling is a refreshing change from videos and passive televised entertainment, empowering and encouraging audiences of all ages to join the fun, and to take the stories home with them to share with others. He also encourages listeners to remember and tell stories from their own family and cultural tradition.

Davis Bates has been telling stories for over 15 years in schools, libraries, colleges and community settings around New England and across the country. A featured teller for the Pioneer Valley Folklore Society's Folk Traditions program and the Western New England Storytellers' Guild, he has also served as director and consultant for several local and regional oral history and folk arts projects. Davis lives with his wife and their 3-year-old on a hillside farm in Colrain, Massachusetts. When he isn't collecting or learning stories, he spends most of his time cutting cordwood and working on the land. The performance will take place at the Music Hall on Front Street in Marion on Tuesday, November 7th starting at 7:30 pm. Admission is free and refreshments will be served. Be sure not to miss this wonderful evening of traditional entertainment. For more information call 748-0355.
